

The Pennsylvania School Study Council presents:

A webinar regarding the Teacher & Principal Effectiveness Process

December 15, 2014 at 10:30 a.m. from the Krause Innovation Studio in the College of Education at the Pennsylvania State University

Hear from the Executive Director and Assistant Executive Director of the PA Elementary & Secondary Principals Association:

Teacher and Principal Effectiveness – the Good, the Bad and Ugly

Dr. Paul Healey – executive director of the Pennsylvania Association of Elementary and Secondary School Principals (PAESSP). For most of his 33 years in public education, Dr. Healey has served in the role of an elementary principal. In addition, he has acted as an assistant superintendent, superintendent and as an adjunct professor and staff member for Penn State Harrisburg. Over the past six years, he has also served in the non-profit sector as a board member for the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (ASCD) and was elected president in 2011.

Dr. Joseph Clapper – assistant executive director of PAESSP. Dr. Clapper retired from the Quaker Valley School District as superintendent of schools, he also has experience as a high school and elementary school principal, assistant principal, supervisor of instruction, elementary teacher and secondary English/reading teacher. He is a member of the PA Department of Education's State Assessment Advisory Committee, the American Association of School Administrators, the Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development and the Pennsylvania Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, among others.

Topics of discussion:

- Learn the position of PAESSP on the Act 82 Educator Effectiveness Process
- Clear up concerns
- Reinforce progress and compliance
- Provide suggestions

There will be an information sharing and Q & A opportunity at the conclusion of the webinar presentation
