FEATURING KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

Dr. Heather W. Hackman

Dr. Hackman has been teaching and training on social justice issues since 1992 and was a professor in the Department of Human Relations and Multicultural Education at St. Cloud State University for 12 years before she began focusing full time on consulting.

She has taught courses in social justice and multicultural education, race and racism, social justice education, oppression and social change, among others. She is currently working on a book examining race, racism and whiteness in education through a model she calls "cellular wisdom." In 2005, she founded Hackman Consulting Group and consults nationally on issues of deep diversity, equity and social justice.

Gerry Brooks

Mr. Brooks is the principal at Liberty Elementary School in Lexington, Kentucky. His educational experience includes six years in the classroom, two years as an intervention specialist and 17 years as an administrator. A passionate public speaker, he has spoken to educational groups all around the nation. His focus is on encouraging teachers to improve their instruction through personal climate and culture strategies. He desires to help administrators focus on how to lead all staff in a positive and constructive manner. His following on social media has developed through humorous videos that focus on real-world educational experiences. He currently has over 800,000 followers.
