

Introducing a NEW Magazine Feature...

READERS FOR LEADERS

We are seeking educational book reviews for a new magazine column, "READERS FOR LEADERS"; but only for books that you have found valuable and would "recommend" to your colleagues. Educators are constantly looking for new ideas to use and share, but do not always have time to read new books. It is our hope that this column will provide you with the latest in contemporary readings.

Book reviews should be no more than 350-400 words and must be submitted as a Word document with little or no formatting. Authors may not be the book's author since the purpose of the review is purely to provide information and NOT to sell books! Articles must be written using APA Style. A biographical sketch in written (paragraph) format and a professional, high resolution (300 dpi is preferred), color photograph of the author(s) (saved as a JPEG file) must accompany all articles. In addition, authors MUST include a written statement of any connection to the publication being reviewed. For example: The book being reviewed is part of a book selection for a principal certification course (OR...Administrator Professional Development). I have no affiliation with the author(s) or publishing company(ies) of the book(s) in the submitted book review(s).

The deadline for submitting an article for the Winter 2020 magazine is December 6, 2019. Articles may be sent to Sheri Thompson at sherit@papprincipals.org.
