The Power of Peer Support

During my nine years as a high school principal and 12 years as a high school administrator, I have learned that there is nothing more valuable than having the support of those who walk in our shoes. While I still lean on my colleagues often, I have also come to enjoy supporting those who are just starting out in these amazingly enjoyable, yet difficult positions. I believe this support is not only essential to retaining quality principals, but also to helping our members to become more engaged in the Pennsylvania Principals Association.

A Need for Advocacy

With urban and suburban experience in both Montgomery and Delaware Counties, I have seen firsthand that the need for our schools to be supported requires all of our attention. Schools that may seem to be very different have very similar needs, and those needs will only be satisfied if we make our voices heard. Our Association has been a leading advocate for our students, and my wish is to assist all of you in continuing this great work.
