

Andrew McCloskey is a supervising police officer for Caernarvon Township, Berks County, holding the rank of corporal. He helped create the Berks County Community Anti-Threat Team and serves as the threat manager on the multidisciplinary team. Corporal McCloskey specializes in threat management and the prevention of targeted violence. In addition, he is cross-designated by the Berks County District Attorney's Office as a county detective and is federally sworn by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), assigned to the National Security Task Force. He also serves as a Community Anti-Threat Officer (CATO), prioritizing school safety.